Aliens vs. Zombies - (Part 1)

By Macklan Cook

Once in a small village near the ocean a man was out fishing when all of a sudden a UFO fell from the sky. The man was pushed back to shore. The man told the whole village about the UFO. The whole village quickly drove to a valley where they found a huge city. They told everyone about the alien ship but no one believed them. Everyone in the village evacuated immediately. Three months later scientists discovered the UFO. There was a defining screech which could be heard from a mile away. Radars went nuts, nuclear reactors blew up, machines destroyed anything around it. Meanwhile one million light years away, a distress call was heard from the Halonana Species and a fleet was dispatched. Everyone was scared because the reactor blew up near a graveyard and a deafening screech emitted from the UFO when it was uncovered. The next day what they thought was a meteor storm came to earth. It turns out the fleet came and crashed. In the biggest ship a heavy airlock door opened up. Smoke went everywhere. Suddenly two lasers shot out from the ship and it zapped two humans. The smoke cleared and some beaver like aliens came out. Everyone ran, half of the civilization was wiped out. Some people hid in the graveyard where suddenly hands started bursting out of the ground and then zombies came out of the ground. Zombies invaded and so did the aliens.

The war has started!!

Aliens vs. Zombies - (Part 2)

The civilization has been wiped out but the war still rages on. Zombie's vs Aliens. The city is being burnt to the ground. Aliens die and turn into zombies. Zombies get mutated and become aliens. It's either side's war. Dead body's everywhere, alien skin everywhere. Buildings have fallen over and crushed aliens and the zombies. The war is over. There is only one alien and one zombie left. They clashed. They wouldn't stop until the world was theirs.

(Five years later)

The world has now been left to rot. The fighting stopped when a titan sized meteor crashed into the earth destroying both. There is no survival on this new barren wasteland.

The fight

has ended .....or has it?
